

VANI (Virtual Articulation Narrating Instrument)

“Raise your words not your voice. It is rain that grows flowers, not thunder!” Wise words from Rumi that Inspire.

VANI is a 10-week (30 mins) or 5-week (60 mins) coaching program that is completely focused on women that helps you identify your true Voice & potential! It’s all about dusting off the self-doubt to discover YOU! This is conceived & executed by Rashmi Shetty who is a VOICE & Vocal Presence Coach who works with your Voice and Attitude on your journey to find out who you can be. What is the best version of yourself? This exploration can make you joyous. This joy can propel you to move into exploring how best you can evolve in order to express all that you have within. When each one has a distinct voice how can a generic program work?

Keeping this in mind the design is as follows:

- These one-on-one coaching sessions, customized for your voice to enable you to discover where your strength lies.
- VANI is also a 4-step framework that will be used as part of this 10/5 -week program.
- Assignments & recordings that we will dissect as we understand assertiveness, Tone, power of words, modulation & discover the strength of your VANI.
- If there are any changes in the agreed time there needs to be a day’s prior notice other than an emergency.
 - The content of coaching sessions will be completely confidential between the coachee & coach.
 - Punctuality is expected & appreciated. Any delay will not be liable to call for an extension.
 - Assignments mutually agreed upon should be completed by the next session.

TESTIMONIALS ON VANI

“Many thanks to The Third Eye and Mrs. Rashmi Shetty for taking me on a beautiful journey of self-discovery. Enrolling in the VANI program is the best decision I had made during the lockdown ...From narrating stories to making impactful presentation in a structured format, this program has definitely has increased the leadership quotient in me.”- Uma Maheshwari

“Working with Rashmi Shetty has helped me to speak with greater inner freedom. The inner judge inside me wanted me to be ‘perfect’ and it used to restrict me. But in giving up the perfection, I found ease and flow. This is thanks to Rashmi’s coaching style where she herself goes with the client’s flow and needs; gives valuable feedback as well as technical tips on the how and what of your voice: pauses, expression, tonality, etc.” – Rashmi

“I had been looking to train with a Voice Coach for long. I connected with dearest Rashmi Shetty last year and decided I wanted to gift myself my Voice. Even though I have been a public speaker and a trainer but what I was looking for was someone who can see the uniqueness in me and then help me express it. Rashmi has very holistic approach to her work, during the coaching I realized how vast and interesting the subject was. She has a unique way of helping you discover you. I totally enjoyed the assignments and her keen, constructive critics. I surely recommend VANI. Finding your voice is one of the best things you can do for you. Thank you, Rashmi! - Sahar

PROFILE OF RASHMI

Rashmi is the Founder Director of The Third Eye and comes with an eclectic mix of experiences as a Popular speaker, Radio Jockey, Coach, Facilitator, Emcee, and Visiting faculty to colleges in Bangalore, India. A Masters in Public Administration she started off teaching before she moved into different sectors and roles. She is a Professional Certified Coach (PCC) from the International Coaching Federation (ICF). She now serves on the Global Board of the ICF Foundation. Her foray into the broadcasting medium introduced her to the power of VOICE that she now uses as her framework in her one-on-one exclusive coaching sessions with CXOs & senior leaders on Vocal Presence. It is this framework that she brings into play at deeper leadership levels that build in the importance of the Gift we are blessed with, our VOICE & self-expression.

VANI (Virtual Articulation Narrating Instrument) is her exclusive women coaching program to navigate them to get in touch with the #voiceinme. It is magical once a woman connects to the voice within! She recently graduated from the first ever LinkedIn exclusive 10 week "LinkedIn Creator Accelerator Program" as one of the top 200 creators selected across India by LinkedIn. A National & International Award winner for scripting & narrating Radio Documentaries underlined her calling to her. She was honored with the "Iconic woman making a better world for all" by the Women Economic Forum.

She hosts a human library audio podcast show on Personal Journeys called "U n' I with Rashmi Shetty" that can be heard on all popular podcast platforms. This podcast won the Hub Hopper Podcast award in the "Interview" category on world Podcaster's Day in 2022. The podcast was selected by Anchor in the top 7 in India in the Anchor Spotlight list of October 2022. Climate is an important element in her coaching conversations and she is an active member of a global movement called the Climate Coaching Alliance.

For more details you can visit: <https://coachrashmishetty.com>